TF80-SC (AF40) C1 Drum.

LATEST O.E. LEVEL.

JPAT are pleased to announce the availability of a new OE C1 clutch drum to suit the TF80-SC transmission.

The clutch kit solves a common failure point of this transmission, causing delayed engagement into drive from startup. The problem occurs when the steel piston rotates in the housing causing a groove to form and in turn excessive clutch clearance.

This clutch kit includes a new bonded rubber damper piston that has also been updated featuring larger exhaust slots. Also included is a new set of return springs, a steel plate for adjusting clutch clearance and most importantly the new steel piston which benefits from location teeth around the outside diameter to prevent rotation, therefore eliminating the wear experienced by earlier units.
